It's time for Summer Reading! This summer, we'll have a full eight weeks of reading and activities for adults, teens and youth. Our theme this year is 'Reading by Design.' That means there are loads of architecture, building, and creating programs planned. Registration opens June 17th and our program runs through August 12th. Here are some of the exciting programs coming this summer:

Exotic Animals!

Saturday, June 24
1:00-2:00pm

Our friends at the Flying Fox Conservation Fund are coming back and they are bringing a sloth, an armadillo, a kinkajou, and many more amazing animals for you to meet and learn about! All ages, please register in advance.

Radio's Golden Age

Tuesday, June 27
7:00-8:00pm

Return with us now to those thrilling days of yesteryear, as Steve Darnall (host of WDCB's "Those Were the Days") examines the 'Golden Age' of radio, when the medium was a theatre of the mind. Teens and adults, please register in advance.

Craft Swap

Wednesday, June 15
4:00-7:00pm

Bring in craft supplies you no longer need and swap them for materials new to you! All clean and usable supplies are welcome. If you want to 'shop' but don't have supplies to swap, please bring a non-perishable item for local food pantries.

Pi Project Days

7/11, 7/18, 8/1
6:00-7:30pm

Explore Raspberry Pi: the micro-computer that allows you to create games, robots, learn coding, and much more! The experts from Grantek Systems will be on hand for three 'Pi Project Days' for ages 10+, please register in advance.

Kids Movie Days

Fridays @ 12:00
June 23 - August 11

Fridays this summer are kid movie days! Bring a sack lunch along and we'll provide both an awesome kids movie and the popcorn! No need to register, just bring a friend and join us!

Story Time Wednesdays

Wednesdays @ 10:30
June 14 - August 16

Wednesday morning means story time! We'll have fun stories every week, and we'll alternate between coloring and building to keep the little ones thinking creatively! Intended for ages 2-5.
